TAKING A HANDS-ON APPROACH.

Mr. Ryan joined Pisanelli Bice in March of 2016, with a practice focused on commercial litigation in federal and state court. He takes a hands on approach at all levels of a case, from pre-litigation through the appellate process, that provides needed consistency when navigating difficult terrain.

Mr. Ryan obtained his JD from American University in 2009. During Law School, he worked with the Washington D.C. office of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, with the Office of Compliance, Inspections and Examinations. During his time at the SEC, Mr. Ryan worked on matters ranging from the investigation of options exchanges to the preparation of congressional reports.

Mr. Ryan was also a part of the Marshall Brennan Constitutional Literacy Project at American University and taught constitutional law to inner-city high school students. His passion for assisting under-privileged children continues to this day as he provides pro bono services to the Children's Attorney Project through the Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada. The Project provides needed representation and a critical voice to children in the foster care system in Southern Nevada.
